

Pastor: would you, could you help us help the hurting?

How aware are the people of your church and community of

- Lutheran Counseling Center;
- the services we provide;
- our needs so that this help can continue?

Here are some simple ways which you can help them and us. Would you?

1. Pray regularly for LCC and the hurting people we help; do so in your personal prayers, and within a public worship service;
2. Refer individuals and families to LCC. A simple phone call is all it takes, 952.894.4828;
3. Do you have a place where an LCC poster and/or brochures could be displayed?
4. Our web site includes a great deal of helpful information. Would you consider linking ours within yours? <http://www.lutherancounseling.org/>
5. Reproducible bulletin inserts, posters and other materials are also available on our web site.
6. Would you be willing to invite a speaker to tell your church about our ministry? This could be during or after worship, or to speak with another group within your church or community. We regularly offer God's Grace to hundreds of individuals. Call Bruce Frederickson soon to schedule a speaker, 612.719.6845;
7. Are there any local "needs" which could be met by working with our LCC staff – a group, or training?
8. From time to time we seek new space to house a counselor's office. Are you aware of any available space?
9. A number of congregations include LCC as a line item in their church's mission budget. Is this a possibility for the people you serve?
10. Do you know someone that an LCC staff member could approach about an individual gifts to LCC?
